20th Anniversary Celebration and Champions of Change Awards

Valentine's Day Eve, February 13, 2010

The Three Rivers Community Foundation is now 20 years old. Since 1990, TRCF has made 440 grants for social change to 260 worthy organizations in southwestern Pennsylvania. In the process, the foundation has helped to change the fabric of social justice and change in our region.

To celebrate this important birthday, the Foundation is planning "An Event with a Heart" an evening of fellowship, fun, and entertainment at The Andy Warhol Museum in Pittsburgh. Beginning at 7:30 a.m., the evening's events and activities include:

- Hors d'oeuvres, drinks, dessert, and end-of-evening coffee
- Performances, skits, and poetry readings
- Access to four floors of great art at The Andy Warhol Museum
- Silent auction of art and unique entertainment, cultural, and recreational packages
- Strolling videographer and caricaturist
- Live music
- Themed recorded social change and protest music from different generations
- Social Change Art and Photography Show
- Exhibit of a portion of The Montgomery Story from the ToonSeum in Pittsburgh, with blow-ups of the rare comic book created by Martin Luther King and the NAACP as an instructional manual for battling for civil rights and social change
- Honoring of founders and early board members
- Recognition of this year's grantee organizations
- Inaugural Champions of Change Awards
- Unveiling of the new TRCF logo
- Standing and seating tables throughout the venue.

Master of Ceremonies is Rob Rogers, the lead editorial cartoonist for the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.
